- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Performance Framework 2008 Report

Australian Health Ministers Advisory Council 2008

The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Performance Framework (HPF) is designed to inform policy analyses, planning and program implementation. The Report provides high quality contextual data on progress towards closing the gap across three tiers: health status and outcomes, determinants of health and health systems performance.

- Overcoming Indigenous Disadvantage: Key Indicators 2009

Steering Committee for the Review of Government Service Provision 2009

This report aims to provide indicators of Indigenous disadvantage that are of relevance to all governments and Indigenous stakeholders, and that can demonstrate the impact of program and policy intervention. Similarly to previous reports, the focus is on those areas in which governments have the greatest capacity to change things for the better in the short and long term.

- The Health and Welfare of Australia's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples 2008

Australian Bureau of Statistics and the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare 2008

This report presents data on the health and welfare of Australia's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, as well as information about their socioeconomic circumstances. Where possible, data are provided on changes in the circumstances of Indigenous people over time, as well as on the differences between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians.
